DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after allowance or after an Office action under Ex Parte Quayle, 25 USPQ 74, 453 O.G. 213 (Comm'r Pat. 1935). Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, prosecution in this application has been reopened pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114.

Applicant's submission filed on 5/24/05 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

*A person shall be entitled to a patent unless --
(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.*

3. Claims 1-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Rebhan et al (WO 99/14874).

Regarding claim 1, Rebhan discloses a broadcast receiver (Fig. 4 and page 25/lines 4-29) comprising:

a station selection part for selecting a broadcast station specified by a station selection command, i.e., a broadcast station is identified using a digital audio broadcast receiver (page 5/lines 9-22 and by a tuner 471 of Fig. 4);

a detection and demodulation part for receiving a radio wave from said broadcast station, and detecting and demodulating said radio wave to generate a received signal

a signal analyzing part for analyzing said received signal and determining a signal processing mode (page 6, lines 3-29 for technique of analyzing and determining signal mode and DSP 473 for processing and analyzing the received signals);

a station selection controlling part for generating said station selection command using the result from said signal analyzing part, and a reception status detecting part for interrupting, while receiving one broadcast station, the reception of said one broadcast station and receiving other broadcast stations based on said station selection command, thereby detecting a reception status of radio waves from other stations (page 6, line 23 to page to col. 8/line 2 for a list of all or selected frequencies are selected and determined as well as alternative frequencies, which refer to other digital tuned channels or stations, and the DSP further extracts the signals for output to speaker for which station or channel is being tuned).

As for claim 2, this limitation is met as Rebhan discloses the extraction of a control signal from the received signal and analyzing it to check whether the received signal is interleaved along the time axis (Fig. 3 and page 23/line 24 to page 25/line 3 for extraction of signals along the time axis with null symbols and received frequencies).

As for claim 3, this limitation is met as Rebhan discloses the signal analysis part detects the amount of interleave included in the control signal for analysis, and the station selection controlling part generates the station selection command in accordance with the result of the detection and analysis (Fig. 5 for the process of detecting for analysis, and the result of the detection, refer to page 26/line 3 to page 27/line 18).

As for claims 4 and 5, these limitations are met as Rebhan discloses the evaluation of the reception status of the currently receiving radio wave as well as a guard interval period in their signal within the station selection controlling part (Fig. 4, page 25/lines 4-29 for a digital signal processing means 473).

As for claim 6, Rebhan meets this limitation as the routine loops back for checking or restarting the reception of another broadcast station after the other (Fig. 5).

As for claims 7-12, claims 7-12 are method claims of system claims 1-6 and are rejected for the reasons given in the scope of claims 1-6 as disclosed above.
